

A Call to Action: Active Shooter Preparedness Discussion and Assessment Guide

Ensure your organization is ready!

- 1) Does your organization have an Active Shooter Preparedness Protocol?
- 2) How do you train your staff on the protocol? What does active shooter simulation training include for your organization? Are there specialized departments that will need to have additional training?
- 3) Is there a communication plan in place for active shooter events? Does that plan include internal and external communication outlets? What information will be shared with neighboring businesses?
- 4) What plan is in place immediately following an active shooter event (staff support, media communication, resuming of daily operations, etc.)?
